DR. JOHN R. YOUNG

Dr. John Ripley Young is Monticello's youthful president. He graduated from Marshall College with a B.A., and he earned his M.A. and Ph.D. from the University of Illinois.

Endowed with a soft, resonant voice, one which automatically instills confidence, Dr. Young has proved himself an invaluable counselor and a sincere friend.

A Rotarian, civic-minded Dr. Young is a member of the board of directors of Alton Memorial Hospital and the Alton-Wood River chapter of the American Red Cross.

Fred Kuehne, Marshall Acker, Dr. John R. Young, D. Howard Doane, Mrs. S. T. Olin, Mrs. W. W. Parsons, Eben Rodgers, chairman; Mrs. T. S. Chapman, Mrs. G. S. Milnor.

The Board of Trustees

The over-all responsibility for the administration of Monticello College lies with its energetic Board of Trustees, a group of nine capable men and women who generously give of their valuable time and effort in behalf of this college.

The Board of Trustees consists of the following members:

Chairman: Eben Rodgers, Alton

Vice-chairman: Fred Kuehne, Jr., Mattoon

Secretary: Marshall W. Acker, Alton

Members: Mrs. T. S. Chapman, Jerseyville
D. Howard Doane, St. Louis
Mrs. George Sparks Milnor (Alice Ryrie, Class of 1911), Kenilworth
Mrs. Spencer T. Olin (Ann Whitney, Class of 1925), Alton

Member Emeritus: Mrs. William Wood Parsons (President of Monticello College 1910-1918), Terre Haute, Indiana

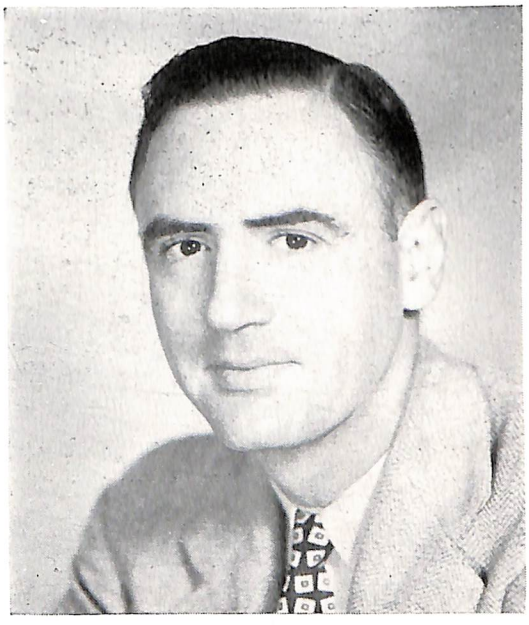
Member Ex-officio: Dr. John R. Young

Administration

MARY LAING SWIFT
Academic Dean
A.B. Vassar College
M.A. Columbia University

Miss Swift, the Academic Dean, is known for her understanding and interest in each and every Monticello girl.

In addition to her duties as Academic Dean, she is Chairman of the Advising Committee, and faculty adviser to the Student Council.



WENDEL H. BAKER
Director of Admissions;
Assistant to the President
A.B. University of Missouri

Mr. Baker, in the capacity of Director of Admissions, carries on all correspondence with prospective students. He is ably assisted by eight field representatives in this responsibility.

His willing participation in Monticello's many activities brings him closer to us, the student body.

ALICE MAY MORRILL
Dean of Women
Ph.B., Denison University;
M.A., Northwestern University

Mrs. Alice May Morrill's duties as Dean of Women include the administration of social privileges, the supervision of all student residences, and the task of picking compatible roommates for new students.

Perhaps most important is her role of helper and adviser to girls adjusting to new experiences of college life.

Administration

FLORENCE S. DUREE
Social Director
B.A., University of Nebraska

Scheduling events on the school calendar; giving personal consultation on social problems; planning teas and receptions; and arranging trips into St. Louis for concerts, plays, and operas comprise a portion of Mrs. Duree's work as social director. She serves as adviser to the Social Committee and as director of student employment.

As adviser to both the junior and senior classes, Mrs. Duree has helped to further the unity of our student body.

WADE T. SEARLES
Business Manager
B.S., Ohio State University;
M.A., University of Chicago

Mr. Searles takes care of the financial matters of the college. He purchases supplies and has charge of our student bank.

Mr. Searles supervises the buildings and grounds and sees that all necessary repairs are made with the help of the maintenance staff.

ERMINA E. BUSCH
Registrar
A.B., University of Illinois

As registrar, Miss Busch keeps all the academic and registration records. She receives all high school transcripts, sends out student and college transcripts, and checks graduation requirements.

This year Miss Busch is chairman of the curriculum committee. She also edits the college catalog. Here at Monticello the registrar is on a close personal basis with the girls as she serves as adviser to a number of them.

Administration

MARY J. PFEIFFENBERGER
Alumnae Secretary
A.A., Monticello College
B.A., Wellesley College

Miss Pfeiffenberger holds the past and the present together by keeping in touch with the forty-seven hundred living alumnae. She arranges and attends many alumnae reunions throughout the country and sees that former students are entertained when visiting the campus.

Miss Pfeiffenberger also serves as editor of the Alumnae Bulletin, which is published four times yearly.

JOSEPH A. L. RUSSO
Director of Publications
A.B., Harvard College

Besides editing college publications, Mr. Russo supervises and assists the students in producing the college paper, the Times, and the yearbook, the Echo.

Monticello publicity usually originates with Mr. Russo. A large amount of his time is spent in taking photographs of activities and of students for use in publicity and in the student publications.

FRANCES ROUSSEFF
Acting Librarian

As librarian, Mrs. Rousseff supervises the selection, purchase, and cataloging of new books for the library.

She assists students in locating material needed for their work, and keeps the list of books which are on reserve.

English Department

Every Monticello student is enrolled in an English class where she is given the opportunity of learning to write clearly, to read critically, and to think for herself.

Juniors are placed in an English composition course which teaches them to write correctly and expressively. Criticism of themes and discussions of essays, short stories, novels, poems and plays are the techniques employed.

A course in Biblical Literature is offered covering both the Old and New Testaments in the King James Version, which is treated not from a theological point of view, but rather as a cultural heritage of English speaking people. English literature, a course open to seniors only, is a study of classical literature from the 8th century to the present.

One of the more advanced courses in the English Department is American literature combined with American history, known as A.C. and C. (American Culture and Civilization.)

JOHN D. SCHWEITZER

Language Department

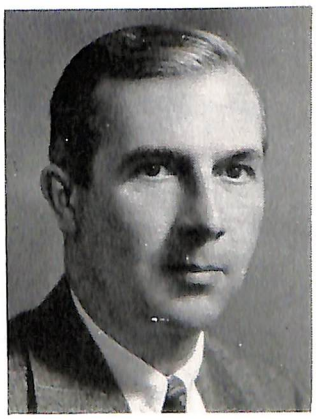
PAUL JOHN COOKE
Chairman
Department of Foreign Languages
A.B., A.M., Ph.D., University of Illinois

The language department offers two years of French and Spanish. Advanced courses in both French and Spanish are open to girls who have had previous training in both languages.

In order to help students practice their conversation and add to their understanding of the Spanish and French people, the Language Lounge is open at all times. Here are records of their native songs and book shelves lined with novels, dictionaries, and reference books. The walls are decorated with sombreros and colorful travel posters. French and Spanish magazines and newspapers are available so that the student may find out recent developments and trends of thought in these countries as well as practice her translations.

CHANNING MACFADON
B.A., University of Michigan; M.A., University of Minnesota

HERBERT A. WOODBURY
A.B., Harvard College; Gradute study, Washington University



Visual Arts Department

HELEN FRANCES PATTON
Chairman
Department of Visual Arts
B.S., George Peabody College for Teachers; M.A., University of Chicago

At Monticello, the art department provides for the individual differences and interests of its students. A primary objective of the department is to develop in the student an understanding and an appreciation of the visual arts, and to institute a sound foundation for achievement in fine or applied arts.

Major emphasis is placed on practical experimentation in the studios. Students are offered a wide variety of courses, including sculpture, drawing, painting, textiles and weaving. History and appreciation is also offered, which gives the student a good introduction to art forms of various civilizations, and shows the effects of past art on contemporary forms.

The Fobes arcade provides a colorful and well-lighted gallery for traveling exhibits, and displays of faculty and student work.

HILLIS ARNOLD

Natural Science Department

Lucretia Cressey
Chairman
Department of Science and Mathematics
A.B., University of Illinois; M.A., Columbia University; graduate study, University of Chicago

The purpose of the natural science department is to acquaint the student with the scientific phenomena of the world. The department is composed of three main sections: chemistry, biology, and mathematics. Monticello's well-equipped laboratories are an aid to the ambitious student's quest for knowledge.

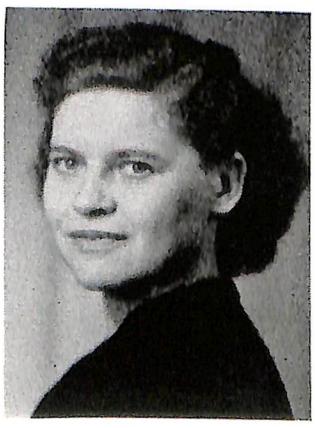
Courses in zoology, botany, and general biology are offered in the biology division, which is supervised by Miss Gulick and Miss Isfort. Field trips, hikes, and visits to the St. Louis Zoo highlight the courses.

The chemistry department is under the supervision of Miss Cressey and includes general and organic chemistry, qualitative and quantitative analysis. Backgrounds for the study of home economics, nursing, nutrition, and advanced courses in chemistry are offered in these courses.

In the mathematics section, algebra is taught by Miss Isfort.

Louise Elizabeth Gulick
A.B., A.M., University of Illinois

Louise Isfort
A.B., A.M., University of Illinois



Music Department

STEPHEN BENNETT WILLIAMS
Chairman
Department of Music
Director of Choral Music

Mus.B., Cornell College-Chicago Musical College; M.A., The State University of Iowa; summer study in Great Britain, Yale University Graduate School; studied with Dr. Philip Greely Clapp, Dr. Frank H. Shaw, Herbert Witherspoon, Richard Hageman

A wide variety of musical activities and instructions is offered at Monticello. For those who sing or play, for those who attend concerts or collect records, for those who plan a career or further study of music at senior colleges or professional schools, differing programs of study are available.

The music department offers courses in literature of music, theory of music, applied music courses, and ensemble singing and playing. Musical performances by guest artists, faculty members, and the students themselves, are often given. Arrangements are made for groups to attend concerts in Alton and St. Louis.

A large collection of records and scores, which the students are free to use at any time, is found in the music reference library.

ROBERT OLDHAM

Mus.B., Mus.M., Yale University; summer study, Teachers College, Columbia University; studied with Howard A. Murphy, Bruce Simmonds, Harry Jepson, David McK. Williams; Tobias Matthay, London

Social Science Department

Mary Laing Swift
Acting Chairman
A.B., Vassar College; M.A., Columbia University

Social science deals with the origin of human society and social phenomena, and the progress of civilization and its laws.

In an age when this study may determine the policies of a new world, its practical as well as technical points are of unmeasurable value. At Monticello the department is composed as follows:

The history courses are designed to make the student aware of the continuity and change in human affairs and make her more capable of planning for the future by the use of knowledge of causes and results of past acts.

Sociology consists of the study of human life in terms of social institutions. The study of crime and punishment, juvenile delinquency, marriage problems, and patterns of community living, holds the student's interest. The courses in government and economics provide the student with information necessary to an intelligent citizen and voter.

Physical Education Department

WINIFRED MORRISON
Chairman
Department of Physical Education
B.S., Kansas City Teachers College; graduate study, University of Missouri, University of Minnesota, University of Colorado

It is a recognized fact that a sound body should accompany a sound mind, and for this reason every girl at Monticello participates in the physical education program. The ideals of companionship, fair play, and sportsmanship are emphasized as a part of good living and good playing.

The year's activities are divided into three sport seasons. A wide variety of sports is offered and the girls may select their favorite, whether it be archery, badminton, basketball, fencing, golf, hockey, swimming, square dancing, life saving, riding, softball, tennis, or volleyball.

The department offers an active voluntary sports program besides the regular classes. Monticello teams take part in competitive games with other colleges.

Highlights of the year were the three sports banquets, the Marlin Pageant, and the Horse Show.

DOROTHY FISHER
B.S., University of Illinois

JANE MOLLOY
B.A., University of Colorado

Psychology Department

SHIRLEY R. HOFFMANN
B.S., College of William and Mary;
M.A., Washington University

With emphasis placed on the normal aspects of human behavior, Monticello's psychology classes attempt to give the students a clearer picture of the thoughts, sensations, and emotions of people.

Headed by Miss Shirley R. Hoffman, the classes through the year have taken several field trips to observe the treatment of abnormal human behavior and the workings of industrial psychology.

Speech and Drama Department

Would-be thespians and orators find an outstanding drama department at Monticello, with courses in acting, stage design and direction, and voice and diction. This year, directed by Leland L. Zimmerman, students have produced an original children's theatre production, "The Pied Piper of Hamelin," and also "Lazarus Laughed." Scenes from great American plays, "Mary of Scotland," "I Remember Mama" and "Family Portrait" were also presented.

W. Vladimir Rousseff, who is technical director of this departmenr, designs and makes many of the striking stage sets and costumes in the plays.

W. VLADIMIR ROUSSEFF
Bulgarian National Gymnasium; L'Ecole de l'Assomption, Varna, Bulgaria; Art Institute of Chicago; studied with Randall Davey, George Bellows, Albert H. Krehbeil, Carl Buehr

Home Management

A new addition at Monticello is the department of Home Management. It is designed for those girls that are planning to go on to school and who are interested in the field of homemaking. The courses offered acquaint the student with the basic principles of homemaking and those factors which build successful homes.

To help the girls further understand the problems of homemaking, a complete kitchen laboratory has been set up for their use.

Health Department

Whether it's a case of the sniffles or a skinned knee, a cut finger or the measles, the capable medical staff of Monticello gives prompt attention to every illness or injury. Dr. Weidig and Dr. Smith make routine calls to the infirmary twice a week and two graduate nurses are always on call.

Every student receives a thorough examination at the beginning of the year and her health record is kept on file in the infirmary office. A hospitalization plan is available for those patients needing hospital care.

Monticello's recently built infirmary provides a pleasant atmosphere for those needing medical attention.

Friendship Song

There will be friendships
When Monti days are through;
There will be friendships
Between our classes too.

The silver links that bind us,
The spade we take (give) from (to) you,
Will always remind us;
Be true!

Next year remember,
That though your (our) class is gone,
We'll (you'll) do our (your) best to carry on.

The things you've (we've) worked for,
The things you've (we've) stood for all along,
Will make our friendships strong.

Student Council

The Student Council is the governing body of the student association, which consists of Monticello students. It is the council that carries out the democratic spirit which is needed to make a link between the administration and the student body. The duty of this group of girls is to give official expression to the opinions and ideas of the student and to offer solutions to problems pertaining to student life.

This year the Student Council has tried to increase the school spirit, by urging participation of all students in the events of the school as well as keeping up their academic standard. Members of the Council proctor the library and the student lounge. On the social side the council has sponsored "all-school parties."

The four officers of the Council are chosen by the student body for their leadership and sound judgment. The President, Gresdna Doty, and Vice-President, Jeannot Barnes, are members of the senior class and were chosen the later part of their junior year. The secretary, Jean Arnold, and Treasurer, Marianne Bradley, are members of the junior class and were chosen at the beginning of this year.

The Student Council Board is comprised of the heads of the major organizations, including class presidents, house chairmen, M.C.A., M.A.A., Sponsor chairman, Social committee, and the editors of the student publications.

The faculty adviser for this governing board is Miss Swift.

M.C.A.

The Monticello Christian Association functions as a service organization. The social service work program, in which the organization assists at the Alton Y.W.C.A. and Catholic Orphanage, is its major activity. M.C.A. has charge of all campus drives, such as the World Student Service Fund, and also sponsors transportation to Alton churches every Sunday.

Program and discussion meetings are held twice a month, under the supervision of Miss Nancy Walthall, faculty adviser. M.C.A.'s program is highlighted at Christmas with the formal Doll Dinner. The group plans and presents a student chapel service each semester and entertains children from the orphanage with an Easter egg hunt each spring.

RUTH PALMER . . . . . Literary Manager
JOAN HARRISON . . . . . Advertising Manager

First published in 1894 as an alumnae magazine, The Echo became in 1936 the student annual, describing in writing and pictures the spirit of Monticello.

With the helpful advice of Joseph A. Russo, faculty sponsor, staff members planned the lay-out, pasted pictures, produced write-ups, gathered ads, and kept one eye on the budget.

In March the material was sent to the printer, and the staff breathed a sigh of relief.

The students' eye-view of the happenings around Monticello is recorded by the Times. It is published bi-weekly and circulated to all the students, parents, many alumnae, and prospective students, to help give them a better understanding of the work and play going on at Monticello. The seniors comprise the always-busy staff while the juniors take their places beside them as reporters and writers of features, sports articles, and editorials.

The aim of the Science Club is to stimulate the student's interest in science and to broaden her general knowledge of physics, chemistry, and biology.

The meetings are highlighted by programs put on either by students, faculty, or visiting guests. Movies, demonstrations, trips, and lectures are provided. Outstanding lectures were those on flower arrangement, photography, and dietetics.

Special events included the Science Club Open House, the Christmas party, and the Science Club picnic in the spring.

Miss Lucretia Cressey and Miss Elizabeth Louise Gulick are faculty advisers for the club.

Social Committee

At Monticello the social program is directed and regulated by a well-organized social committee, which is composed of students who, through a point system, earn their membership to the organization. They perform their duties to the classes as well as to the school itself.

This year the three social chairmen are Jeanne Briggs, Patricia Adams, and Dorothy Jean Elfgen. These girls interchange their duties as heads of the various committees to organize dances, and take charge of the dining room and Merry-Go-Round.

Everyone at Monticello is familiar with the Monticello Choir, whose beautifully harmonized voices issue forth from the chapel balcony at Sunday Vespers services, and from Fobes 21, where the choir holds its practice twice a week.

The fifty members of the choir were selected at the beginning of the year by tryouts at which Stephen B. Williams, choir director, judged the girls on the basis of their music-reading ability and the quality of their voices.

Highlights of the past year were: The nationwide radio broadcast from St. Louis over KSD in October, Christmas Candlelight Service; the appearance with the Alton Symphony early in April, and the Spring Concert in June. Throughout the year they made trips to Alton, East St. Louis, and St. Louis to sing for civic and church groups.

CARLA LIPSKI . . . . . President
BEVERLY MACKIN . . . . . Secretary

To keep students interested in the current problems of the nation and the world, a new club has been formed this year.

The faculty advisers, Miss McMichael and Mr. Smith, meet with the girls twice a month in Caldwell Lounge to study problems of the day.

In April this group was honored to accept an invitation to join other clubs of this area in a conference at Lindenwood. There the girls were able to hear other peoples' opinions on present day situations and to meet in small groups for discussions.

An old club, but under a new name this year, is the Art Club. The main purpose of the club is to stimulate interest in the visual arts. Meetings are held bi-monthly. The first meeting of the month is for business and the second is a work-shop, where the girls have a chance to sketch, paint, or draw their favorite subjects.

The club has lectures by its faculty adviser, Miss Patton, and other members of the art department. As part of its activities, it sponsors trips to the Art Museum in St. Louis.

At the Spring Art Show in May, awards are given to the students who have done outstanding work in art.

The MONTICELLO IDEALS

The Echo presents seven members of the class of 1951 who, by vote of their classmates, typify the Monticello ideals. Although each girl is pictured as a representative of one ideal, she personifies each and every one of them.

BEAUTY

Within each girl is the power to recognize and appreciate the beauty of everyday experiences. Life is filled with beauty if one is sensitive to it and eager to find it—if one's eyes are trained to see, one's ears to hear, one's heart to understand and one's mind to remember.

PEGGY MCQUEEN

Dorothy Jean Elfgen

DIGNITY

This is a quality of reserve which comes with emotional, intellectual, and social maturity. Dignity is always reflected in the recognition of the fitness of things and in the poise and self-confidence with which one places one's self above that which might be considered unseemly.

Patricia Adams

SERVICE

Each of us has a distinctive personality and unique talents. The Monticello girl considers it not only a privilege but a responsibility to share her gifts with all, thereby helping herself and others to develop to the fullest measure.

ROBERTA PEOPLES

LOYALTY

One of the most important of the Monticello Ideals is a deep-seated loyalty to the college, one's friends, one's family and one's own beliefs. This deep-seated emotion will grow through understanding, respect and love.

GRESDNA DOTY

DEMOCRACY

The truly democratic person interests herself in the activities of others. She seeks to understand and respect the ideals and beliefs of her associates while maintaining her own independence of thought and action.

FRIENDSHIP

Many of your most cherished and lasting friendships will be made while you are at Monticello. Your college days will afford rich opportunities for making a wide circle of friends. In true friendship there is dignity, beauty, loyalty, service, democracy, and neverfailing consideration.

ALEXANDRA FATIO

DANA HUDKINS

WISDOM

As the Monticello girl grows in academic stature she seeks to increase her ability to apply her knowledge usefully, for wisdom is the union of knowledge and understanding.

The purpose of the Monticello Athletic Association is to help each student to grow physically, mentally, and morally, by arousing sincere interest in athletics and by offering a means of healthy competition to establish the highest ideals of companionship and sportsmanship.

The M.A.A. Board directs all phases of the voluntary sports program. Members composing this board are Elizabeth Jones, archery; Betty Hill, badminton; Peggy McQueen, basketball; Pat Patridge, bicycle; Barbara Kietzman, bowling; Jean Stolle, fencing; Jean Marshall, golf; Jane Adams, hockey; Caroline McKibbin, riding; Joan Harrison, social chairman; Jane Grush, softball; Carolyn Davies, swimming; Alex Fatio, tennis; and Patsy Reedy, volleyball.

Inter-collegiate games are sponsored by the M.A.A. Board in which Lindenwood, Webster, Washington University, Maryville, and Harris Teachers College were competitors.

Marlin Club

JANE GRUSH . . . . President and Pageant Manager
CAROLYN DAVIES . . . . . Secretary-Treasurer

Marlin Club, an organization for girls interested in rhythm and synchronized swimming, began at Monticello in 1941. The present membership is twenty-eight students. Tryouts are held each fall and spring, and all who pass the necessary swimming skills become members.

The main project of the club is to present the annual spring swimming pageant. The pageant, "Tropical Magic," held on March 9 and 10, was a student production, planned and directed by members under the supervision of faculty adviser, Miss Dorothy Fisher.

Softball

JANE GRUSH . . . . . Manager

At the first sign of spring, Monticello softball enthusiasts return to the diamond. Not only are there scheduled classes, but also voluntary and varsity games. In classes, rules and beginning skills, particularly in pitching and batting, are stressed. In voluntary, girls play for their own recreation and enjoyment.

This year the season was highlighted by the senior-faculty game and competitive games between juniors and seniors.

Basketball

PEGGY MCQUEEN . . . . . Manager

One of the most popular winter sports at Monticello is basketball. Almost half of the student body participates in this sport of skills.

Piloting the inter-class tourney were Peggy McQueen and Jane Adams for the seniors, while Bev Mackin and Bev Robinson led the juniors.

The varsity squad enjoyed competition with teams from Washington University, Principia, Lindenwood, Fontbonne, MacMurray, Harris, Maryville, and Webster. Alumnae weekend afforded much fun with the alum-senior game.

PATSY REEDY . . . . . Manager

A popular sport at Monticello is volleyball, featured in both class and voluntary for all three sport seasons. Games are played indoors in winter and outdoors in spring and autumn.

During the year there are inter-class tournaments, a faculty-student game, and games in competition with other schools.

WORLD-FAMOUS THROUGH THE YEARS

For almost a century, the quality and matchless dependability of products made by divisions of Olin Industries, Inc. have been relied upon by pioneers in all phases of the growth and development of America.

Whether attributed to a large industry or to an individual, quality and dependability have always been a mark of superiority. These important traits have long been emphasized at Monticello College. Carrying them with you always should enable you to become a more worthwhile and responsible member of your community.
